Automatic Sugar Salt Coffee Spice Grinding Crushing Machine

This machine is suitable for chemical, food and grain industries, and has a wide range of uses.

This machine uses the high-speed relative movement between the movable toothed disc and the fixed toothed disc to crush the material to be crushed through the combined effects of tooth impact, friction and material impact. This machine has a simple and sturdy structure, stable operation and good crushing efficiency.

RIDERS Star Group Ltd.

The material to be crushed can be directly discharged from the grinding chamber of the main machine, and the particle size can be obtained by replacing the screens with different apertures. The inner wall of the casing is machined to achieve a smooth surface, which changes the rough inner wall and powder accumulation of the old model, making it more suitable for the production of medicines, food, chemicals, etc.
